

Houston Texans quarterback Deshaun Watson and Reliant join forces to power Houston.

POWER IT FORWARD

At the start of the New Year, twenty-five families will walk into their new homes with an edge up on maintaining affordability. That's because Reliant and Houston Texans quarterback Deshaun Watson have partnered with Houston Habitat to "Power it Forward!"

Reliant will power these Houston Habitat homes for the first year of ownership, offering families a bill credit of up to $150 per month. This initiative is enhanced by Reliant's partnership with Google; furthering sustainability by outfitting these homes with a suite of Nest Smart Home products.

Our Houston Habitat homes are ENERGY STAR rated, so homeowners will also benefit from sustainable, energy-efficient design and construction, resulting in reduced energy consumption.

Reliant will also power two Houston Habitat ReStore locations for one year, reducing operating costs for our retail stores where sale proceeds help build more homes in Houston.

TEAM UP!

Reliant and Deshaun Watson have also teamed up for the Reliant Texans Plan, a 12-month electricity plan that provides a $25 donation split between Houston Habitat for Humanity and the Houston Texans Foundation for every customer that signs up, as well as a Deshaun Watson jersey and an invitation to an exclusive VIP event with the quarterback.
